ABNM Gets Social

Erin E. Grady, M.D.
Social Media–Communications
Committee

If you don't know already, the American Board of Nuclear Medicine has a presence on Facebook and also on Twitter. We're hoping this can be a good way to get information to you about upcoming deadlines, news you can use, interesting articles about ABNM or other updates in our specialty.

To find us on Facebook, search "ABNM" and look for the official ABNM seal. If you want our posts to show up on your news feed, you need to "like" us and then when we post you'll be able to see it. On Twitter, we go by the handle "@ABNM". You can search that and then click on the button to "follow" us. In general, similar things are posted on both social media platforms, but as you probably know, Facebook gives us a chance to be a bit wordier.

We hope you find this useful!
